

Stanford Women in Business

2026-2027 Executive Board

Due: Sunday, May 10th, 2026

Please submit your application to this form: <https://forms.gle/AoMsizVicUywtmMMA>

Name: Christine Zhao

Class Year: Sophomore

Major: Design

Email Address: chrzhao@stanford.edu

Phone Number: 6504846008

Previous SWIB positions:

2024-25: J-Board Member of Campus Relations

As a JBoard member, I helped create and send out a Google Form for collecting professor fireside chat requests, catered food for fireside chats, and brainstormed ideas for collaboration with the d.school. Additionally, I was also a part of the logistics team for YWLS, and helped with catering food and setting up the event.

2025-26: Director of Stanford Partners

As Director of Stanford Partners on the Campus Relations team, I have contributed to SWIB through the following avenues: 1) helping brainstorm and source companies for Springternships and serving as the connection to Sourmilk, 2) facilitating the planning for the DCI x SWIB Mixer, ordering and picking up food for catering, 3) working with Jasmine to plan entrepreneurship-themed mixers with the GSB and other Stanford Women organizations.

Feedback

I've enjoyed being a part of the Campus Relations team these past two years. Given our smaller team, I feel that I've gotten to know everyone well and contribute to a significant number of initiatives. One piece of constructive feedback is that we definitely could've had more frequent team meetings to sync more on individual projects, which is something I would want to improve next year.

Skills

I hope to continue to develop my people skills (networking but also in general!), as well as skills that would be tangible in a professional setting (i.e. cold-emailing, resume-writing, organizing). As a SWIB member for the past two years, I feel that I've already developed a lot of these skills, especially event-organizing and cold-emailing, so I would continue to contribute those skills to SWIB.

Extracurricular Activities

Next year, I will continue to be Senior Captain of the Creative team at On Call Café (8 hours/week), as well as Director of PR of Pi Phi (1 hour/week).

Plans next year

I plan to study abroad in Paris either Winter or Spring, most likely Spring. My journey in SWIB would continue to reflect my involvement in developing my career, now that I've identified my specific interest in product management. I really enjoyed this year's Tech Week, with a focus more on tech and entrepreneurship, and my vision for SWIB next year would be to continue to develop opportunities for people interested in those fields through more programming and workshops.

Position Rankings

1. VP of Campus Relations (x2): The expectation for this role is to foster strategic partnerships with Stanford affiliates to support SWIB programming. You will need to maintain the DCI x SWIB program by organizing matches and hosting a meet-up event during Winter Quarter, as well as programming with campus partners. You will also need to support your director(s).

Since I've been on Campus Relations my entire career in SWIB now, I know the workings of the team very well. I know what initiatives we usually focus on (DCI Mentorship Program, Springternship Program, Collaboration with the GSB), when we do so, and members currently on the team. As VP of Campus Relations, I would be active in organizing the team meetings and managing initiatives from a higher level. I would also be eager to step in and help whichever project is most important at a given time.

2. VP of Springternships (x1): The expectation for this role is to continue SWIB's Springternship program. SWIB has coordinated part-time, asynchronous spring internships with companies like Kendall Jenner's Drink 818, Sourmilk, and Parthenon Capital. This role will require you to reach out to brands, pitch the Springternship, collect applications from SWIB members, and assign them to companies for the Spring Quarter.

As a member on Campus Relations this year, I saw how hard Dylan worked to make this program happen. I was really inspired by that, and I think my skills would transfer over to organizing this program next year. I have built up a collection of connections with Stanford-affiliated startups and companies throughout my time here, and I am confident I would be able to provide the same value that I've gained through this program to the other members of SWIB next year.

3. VP of Community Management (x1): The expectation for this role is to lead our community-focused initiative. JBoard members will sign up to plan bonding events over the course of the year, which include Oval Picnic, OnCall tab, bouquet making session, Galentine's Night, etc. As VP, you will oversee and execute this program. You will also be responsible for organizing Special D.

One of the most valuable takeaways from SWIB has been meeting my fellow SWIB-ies. I would love the opportunity to help plan events for the community. Especially given my close involvement with On Call Café and other corners of campus for these community-centered events (e.g. the Farm), I'm very excited by the prospect of spending my next year in SWIB on the internal team (& getting to experience a different team!) doing this.

4. VP of Internal Marketing (x1): The expectation for this role is to lead the creation of marketing materials for each SWIB team, working closely with JBoard members to ensure high-quality and timely content. You will be responsible for maintaining clear brand guidelines, ensuring consistency across all communications, and overseeing the coordination of SWIB merch orders. Additionally, this role includes organizing training sessions for the marketing team, including crash courses on tools such as Figma, Canva, Adobe Acrobat, and analytics platforms like Google, Instagram, and Facebook.
5. VP of External Marketing (x1): The expectation for this role is to manage and grow SWIB's external presence through the website and social media platforms. This includes developing creative social media campaigns and maintaining an engaging and consistent online brand. You will also oversee event documentation and photography, as well as coordinate SWIB headshots to support professional development and marketing efforts.

A Note From the Co-Presidents

As we open applications for SWIB's 2026–27 Executive Board, we want to first thank you all for being part of this community. We are so grateful for the time and energy you have poured into SWIB. As we look ahead, we're committed to building a board that reflects the engagement, dedication, and collaboration that SWIB stands for.

In your application, please be honest about your contributions and, most importantly, write authentically about yourself. We want to understand your story and experiences so we can best match you to a position. We've also included the phone numbers of previous VPs if you have any questions about the role.

With that in mind, we will be making a few difficult but necessary decisions regarding continued board membership. In order to maintain a strong and reliable leadership team, we will not be considering applicants who have not met the baseline expectations of involvement over the past year, including consistent meeting attendance and active participation in programming.

If you feel this might apply to you, we encourage you to reach out to us directly for a conversation before the application deadline.

1. Please list your previous positions (including current) in SWIB and elaborate on your responsibilities for each position. (1-2 sentences on each position)
2. Please provide feedback on your position last year. Elaborate on team structure, dynamics, and if you felt the scope of your role was too narrow or wide. (3 sentences)
3. What skills do you hope to gain through SWIB? What skills do you hope to contribute to SWIB? (1-2 sentences on each skill, bullet points are fine)
4. Please review the descriptions of the board positions for the 2026-27 year below. We've included the phone numbers of VPs who have held positions the past year if you have any questions.
 - Rank your top five choices below and elaborate on your motivations for selecting your top three. Why are you interested in these positions? (3-5 sentences on each position)
5. What initiatives would you like to see more of in SWIB this upcoming year? (3 sentences)
6. How do you envision your journey in SWIB throughout the rest of your Stanford career? Do you have a vision for the future of SWIB? (3-5 sentences)
7. Please briefly elaborate on plans to go abroad or take an LOA. If so, when/where?

8. Please list your extracurricular activities and academic commitments for next year, and a weekly estimation of hours dedicated to each. SWIB is a significant time commitment, and we expect all applicants to prioritize their positions on the board. (bullet points are fine)

VP of Operations: The VPO plays a vital role in ensuring the smooth functioning and long-term success of SWIB. While not formally part of any individual team, the VPO oversees the entire organization and works closely with the Co-Presidents as a strategic partner. This role helps define and uphold SWIB's culture, fosters collaboration across teams, and advises board members as a senior mentor.

Previous VP of Operations: Lena Panova (6506099056, lenka57@stanford.edu)

Core Responsibilities:

- Tracking SWIB attendance
- Approving large SWIB financial transactions
- Reserving rooms for weekly meetings and annual events
- Sending out weekly meeting and event calendar invites
- Encouraging participation from seniors in panels and mentoring events

This role is best suited for rising seniors.

Business Leadership (BizLead)

Previous VPs:

Hannah Yu (9259896822, hannahy9@stanford.edu)

Sienna Nazarian (3105691213, snaz@stanford.edu)

This team is responsible for organizing and executing SWIB's premier, large-scale events that engage the broader community. These high-impact programs include the annual Young Women's Leadership Summit (Winter Quarter), the Executive Leadership Series (at least two per quarter), and Tech Week (Spring Quarter).

Through these initiatives, the BizLead team brings together large audiences to learn from and connect with accomplished female leaders across a wide range of industries, inspiring the next generation of women in business.

Core Responsibilities:

- Speaker outreach
- Event planning and logistics

Senior VP of Business Leadership: This role is intended for rising seniors. You will provide assistance to the BizLead team based on prior SWIB experience.

VP of Business Leadership (x2): The expectation for this role is to produce at least two ELS events per quarter. You will also work closely to assist the Directors of Tech Week in speaker outreach and provide support to the Directors of YWLS.

Director of Tech Week (x2): The expectation for this role is to plan and manage Tech Week during Spring Quarter with the assistance of JBoard. Tech Week should include at least 4 days of programming for SWIB and the broader campus community. You will need to organize logistics and coordinate marketing.

Director of Young Women's Leadership Summit (x2): The expectation for this role is to organize and run the annual YWLS during Winter Quarter, with the goal of growing the event to incorporate a larger and more diverse audience. You will get to delegate responsibility to JBoard while maintaining logistical leadership.

Campus Relations

Previous VPs:

Jessica Hu (4158184298, jesshu@stanford.edu)

Thais Estrada-Nunez (3472391435, thais2@stanford.edu)

This team leads all initiatives aimed at strengthening SWIB's connection with the broader Stanford community. The main responsibility next year will be reviving Springternships, as well as organizing collaborative events with other campus organizations. The Campus Relations team plays a vital role in fostering meaningful partnerships and building a strong, engaged collegiate network.

Core Responsibilities:

- Campus outreach
- Event planning and logistics

Senior VP of Campus Relations: This role is intended for rising seniors. You will provide assistance to the Campus Relations team based on prior SWIB experience.

VP of Campus Relations (x2): The expectation for this role is to foster strategic partnerships with Stanford affiliates to support SWIB programming. You will need to maintain the DCI x SWIB program by organizing matches and hosting a meet-up event during Winter Quarter, as well as programming with campus partners. You will also need to support your director(s).

VP of Springternships (x1): The expectation for this role is to continue SWIB's Springternship program. SWIB has coordinated part-time, asynchronous spring internships with companies like Kendall Jenner's Drink 818, Sourmilk, and Parthenon Capital. This role will require you to reach out to brands, pitch the Springternship, collect applications from SWIB members, and assign them to companies for the Spring Quarter.

Director of Stanford Partners (x1): The expectation for this role is to plan and execute at least one event per quarter with a Stanford partner (GSB Women in Management, DCI, d.school, FashionX, SWID, SWICS, etc.). You will also be responsible for initiating new partnerships on campus.

External Relations

Previous VPs:

Navya Agarwal (5642109022, navyaag@stanford.edu)

Ellen Wang (7813549613, ellenw1@stanford.edu)

This team is responsible for managing SWIB's external partnerships with two key groups: (i) corporations and (ii) other Women in Business (WIB) organizations. On the corporate side, the team recruits and onboards sponsors, supports them in planning on-campus events and office treks, and plays a central role in organizing the annual NYC Trek by sourcing participating companies. On the WIB side, the team builds relationships with peer organizations across the U.S. and internationally, hosting mixers, professional development workshops, and other collaborative events to strengthen ties among WIB communities across campuses.

Core Responsibilities:

- External outreach
- Event planning and logistics
- Leading speaker events and panel discussions

Senior VP of External Relations: This role is intended for rising seniors. You will provide assistance to the External Relations team based on prior SWIB experience.

Senior VP of Finance (x1): This role will focus on providing mentorship and guidance to the next Financial Officer based on prior SWIB experience.

VP of Finance (x1): Separate application due Wednesday, May 13th, 2026.

VP of External Relations (x2): The expectation for this role is to recruit new corporate sponsors for SWIB over the summer and manage relationships with existing sponsors in planning small group dinners, treks, and board events. You will work closely with the VP of Finance to onboard sponsors and the Directors of Corporate Events to facilitate recruitment-centered programming.

Director of Corporate Events — On-Campus (x2): The expectation for this role is to help plan on-campus recruitment events with sponsors. You will be responsible for coming up with creative event formats, joining calls with sponsors, coordinating logistics, booking rooms, and organizing food options.

Director of Corporate Events — Off Campus (x2): The expectation for this role is to help plan off-campus recruitment events, specifically the NYC Trek office visits and SF office visits. You will be responsible for outreach and logistical support.

Internal Relations

Previous VPs:

Michelle Lau - PD (6503886346, mblau@stanford.edu)

Charlotte Richard - PD (2035546135, carich@stanford.edu)

Charlotte Kearns - Community Management - (6502882594, chkearns@stanford.edu)

Ghalyah Alhendi - Trek (6506602866, ghalyah4@stanford.edu)

Michelle Jin - Recruitment & Trek (4082029345, mzjin@stanford.edu)

This team focuses on two core responsibilities: leading educational initiatives that support the professional and leadership development of SWIB members, and fostering a strong, close-knit community within the organization. In addition to overseeing community-building, the team plays a key role in organizing major events such as Recruitment, Retreat, Special D, and the annual NYC Trek.

Core Responsibilities:

- Community management and bonding
- Event planning and logistics
- Fostering mentorship and inclusivity

Senior VP of Internal Relations: This role is intended for rising seniors. You will provide assistance to the Internal Relations team based on prior SWIB experience.

VP of Professional Development (x2): The expectation for this role is to lead SWIB's efforts in supporting members pursuing careers in investment banking, consulting, private equity, product management and other technical fields. The VPs of PD should have strong financial and business acumen and be prepared to guide members through recruiting, interviewing, and internship preparation. This role involves leading at least two board meetings per quarter.

VP of Community Management (x1): The expectation for this role is to lead our community-focused initiative. JBoard members will sign up to plan bonding events over the course of the year, which include Oval Picnic, OnCall tab, bouquet making session, Galentine's Night, etc. As VP, you will oversee and execute this program. You will also be responsible for organizing Special D.

VP of Recruitment and Trek (x2): The first expectation for this role is to plan and organize junior board recruitment in Fall 2026. The work for recruitment begins in Summer 2026. You will also collaborate with the Presidents and VPs of Community Management on JBoard bonding. The second expectation of this role is to organize NYC Trek in Spring. You will plan all logistics and work closely with the External Relations team for the visit.

Director of Community & Engagement (x1): The expectation for this role is to lead SWIB's mentorship, alumni relations, and DEI programming. You will be responsible for creating SWIBeage matches once the new JBoard is onboarded and planning at least one event per quarter. You will also manage the SWIB Alumni Database and plan one alumni-focused event during NYC Trek. Additionally, you will lead one pre-recruitment and one post-recruitment DEI workshop, with the opportunity to innovate on new initiatives that strengthen community, inclusion, and engagement across SWIB.

Marketing

Previous VP:

Daenna Gonzalez (8328008095, daennag@stanford.edu)

This team is responsible for building and maintaining a strong, recognizable brand for SWIB. This includes designing event materials, coordinating SWIB merch orders, and shaping the organization's public image through the website and social media platforms. The team also plays a key role in promoting events to both the Stanford community and the broader public, ensuring SWIB's mission and programs reach a wide and engaged audience.

Core Responsibilities:

- Event promotion
- Content creation and social media strategy
- Website oversight
- Headshot coordination

Senior VP of Marketing: This role is intended for rising seniors. You will provide assistance to the Marketing team based on prior SWIB experience.

VP of Internal Marketing (x1): The expectation for this role is to lead the creation of marketing materials for each SWIB team, working closely with JBoard members to ensure high-quality and timely content. You will be responsible for maintaining clear brand guidelines, ensuring consistency across all communications, and overseeing the coordination of SWIB merch orders. Additionally, this role includes organizing training sessions for the marketing team, including crash courses on tools such as Figma, Canva, Adobe Acrobat, and analytics platforms like Google, Instagram, and Facebook.

VP of External Marketing (x1): The expectation for this role is to manage and grow SWIB's external presence through the website and social media platforms. This includes developing creative social media campaigns and maintaining an engaging and consistent online brand. You will also oversee event documentation and photography, as well as coordinate SWIB headshots to support professional development and marketing efforts.

Director of Content Creation (x1): The expectation for this role is to support the VPs by creating engaging content for SWIB's Instagram and LinkedIn. This role requires consistent attendance at SWIB events in order to capture photos, videos, and other media that can be used in dynamic, well-branded campaigns that highlight the organization's activities and values.

Director of Communications (x1): The expectation for this role is to serve as the voice of SWIB by keeping members informed and engaged through timely and relevant updates. The first responsibility is to update the "Opportunities" tab on the SWIB website weekly by posting internships, jobs, programs, and events from mailing lists, the careers channel on the SWIB Slack, etc. The second responsibility is to write a quarterly update email that highlights SWIB's accomplishments and key milestones. At the start of each quarter, you will present a brief summary of this update to the board.
